RED CROSS SOCIETY TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

Mrs. N. E. Logan, of Knoxville, President of the Tennessee Class No. 1, of the Lay Women's Auxiliary to the American Red Cross, will be at the home of Mrs. B. G. Simmons Saturday afternoon July 8, at four o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a class in Maryville.

All who are interested in any way in this work are invited to be present to hear Mrs. Logan's remarks and can inform themselves upon the subject with out any further obligation on their part.

The purpose of the class is signified by its name, that of co-operating with the Red Cross in its work of ministering unto the sick and suffering, particularly in warfare.

Anent the critical Mexican situation, this organization is of great consequence, and the women of Maryville who are interested in promoting it to a successful issue are being solicited and encouraged.

The fee for annual membership in the Red Cross is $1, which entitles the member to receive the Red Cross Magazine that gives comprehensive information as to the work; the sustaining membership is $10 annually and the life membership charge is $25.

If War Should Come What About You?

We all hope that war will not come but if it should would the women of America be trained and efficient helpers or well-meaning bunglers?

Don't expect the men to do it all. Women have their work and it is just as important that they should be trained for it, as that soldiers should be taught the art of warfare.

Doubtless there was not a woman in Maryville who did not grieve to tell "our boys" goodbye, but don't take up valuable time in vain regrets. Get busy and do your share in helping provide for them when they are sick or injured. That is the time they most need mother, wife or sister and you can just as surely help them by helping the Red Cross as you could if you were there yourself.

Let everyone enlist under the banner of humanity the Red Cross of America.

A Few Facts as to Red Cross
The American Red Cross (present organization) was chartered by congress in 1905.

Its president is the president of the United States.

It is the one volunteer relief organization for war and disaster recognized by the United States government.

It has expended in ten years for people of the United States in humanitarian work over thirteen millions of dollars in money and supplies.

It is non-sectarian and non-political.

It is organized to furnish aid to sick and wounded of armies in time of war, and to devise and carry on measures of relief for the suffering from pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great calamities.

If this country should ever become engaged in war the Red Cross would be the official channel through which friends or relatives would be able to locate and communicate with sick, wounded, or imprisoned soldiers.

It expends its relief funds in accordance with the designation of donors.

Its accounts are audited by the United States war department.

Japan with a population of 40,000,000 has 1,800,000 Red Cross members.

Germany with a population of 67,000,000 has 1,000,000 Red Cross members, and other countries also have large memberships.

The United States and its dependencies with a population of 100,000,000 have only 100,000 members.

Red Cross Membership

Members of the Red Cross does not involve any financial obligation, other than the payment of dues, or any obligation of service. All active service is performed by its directors, surgeons, nurses, and other trained agents.

The American Red Cross asks the co-operation of every man, woman, and child in the United States in its effort to increase its membership.

The work of the Red Cross should command the interest and support of every citizen of the country. It is not a private organization or a limited corporation. It is an organization "of the people, by the people, and for the people." Its rolls at present contain the names of persons in all walks of life, from the most humble citizen to those of the highest financial, business, and social standing. But the number is woefully small.

This statement is an invitation to the recipient to make application for membership. If he is already enrolled, he should consider it a duty to hand this folder to some one who is not a member.

Any citizen or resident of the United States or of its dependencies may become a member of the American Red Cross by the payment of the dues of the class of membership into which he desires election.

The four classes of membership are as follows:

Annual membership $1 per year.
Sustaining membership $10 per year.

Life membership $25 in one payment.
Patron membership $100 in one payment.

Each member is provided with a button or pin and receives the Red Cross Magazine, a monthly publication devoted to, and keeping its members in touch with, the work of this society and of the Red Cross throughout the world.

Checks or money orders should be made payable to the American Red Cross. Receipt for dues will be sent each member. Membership is an expression of your patriotism and humanity.

Can you afford not to be a member?
